come, come, whoever you are. wanderer, worshiper, lover of leaving. it doesn't matter. ours is not a caravan of despair.
come, even if you have broken your vows a thousand times.
come, yet again

“morning has broken”

m: trad scottish, w: e. farjeon morning has broken, like the first morning, blackbird has spoken, like the first bird.

praise for the singing! praise for the morning!
praise for the springing fresh from the world!

sweet the rain's new fall, sunlit from heaven like the first dewfall, on the first grass.
praise for the sweetness of the wet garden sprung in completeness where god's feet pass.

mine is the sunlight, mine is the morning born of the one light, eden saw play.
praise with elation! praise every morning!
god's recreation of the new day!

reach out your hand, if your cup be empty if your cup is full, may it be again let it be known there is a fountain that was not made by the hands of men

kairos moment

(the ancient greeks had two words for time, chronos and kairos. kairos is “a time in between” – sacred time.)

opening our hearts and minds

lori matheny

john 4: 4-14

jesus had to go through samaria. he came to a samaritan city called sychar, which was near the land jacob had given to his son joseph. jacob's well was there. jesus was tired from his journey, so he sat down at the well. it was about noon.

a samaritan woman came to the well to draw water. jesus said to her, "give me some water to drink." his disciples had gone into the city to buy him some food.

the samaritan woman asked, "why do you, a jewish man, ask for something to drink from me, a samaritan woman?" (jews and samaritans didn't associate with each other.)

jesus responded, "if you recognized god's gift and who is saying to you, 'give me some water to drink,' you would be asking him and he would give you living water."

the woman said to him, "sir, you don't have a bucket and the well is deep. where would you get this living water? you aren't greater than our father jacob, are you? he gave this well to us, and he drank from it himself, as did his sons and his livestock."

jesus answered, "everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again, but whoever drinks from the water that i will give will never be thirsty again."

some thoughts for the journey nothing exists except atoms and empty space; everything else is opinion.- democritus to be full of things is to be empty of god. to be empty of things is to be full of god.- meister eckhart this accidental meeting of possibilities calls itself i. and i ask: what am i doing here? and, at once, this i becomes unreal social media gives us the idea we should all have a posse of friends - in reality, if we have one or two good friends, we have all we need.

someone i loved once gave me a box full of darkness. it took me years to understand that this too, was a gift. - mary oliver
