come, come, whoever you are. wanderer, worshiper, lover of leaving. it doesn't matter. ours is not a caravan of despair. come, even if you have broken your vows a thousand times.come, yet again

"blue boat home" peter mayer though below me i feel no motion standing on these mountains and plains far away from the rolling ocean still my dry land heart can say i've been sailing all my life now never harbor nor port have i known the wide universe is the ocean i travel and the earth is my blue boat home sun, my sail and moon, my rudder as i ply the starry sea leaning over the edge in wonder casting questions into the deep drifting here with my ship's companions all we kindred pilgrim souls making our way by the lights of the heavens in our beautiful blue boat home i give thanks to the waves upholding me hail the great winds urging me on greet the infinite sea before me sing the sky my sailor's song i was born upon the fathoms never harbor nor port have i known

amos 5: 21-24 (nrsv, adapted) i despise your bright festivals. your solemn worship disgusts me. even though you offer me the finest, fattest calves and the ripest grains, i don't want any of it. take away your booming music. i'm not listening to your melodies anymore. but let justice roll down like a waterfall and compassion like an ever flowing stream.

john 2: 18-21 (nrsv)

The Jews then said to him, "What sign can you show us for doing this?" Jesus answered them, "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up." The Jews then said, "This temple has been under construction for forty-six years, and will you raise it up in three days?" But he was speaking of the temple of his body.

gamble everything for love, if you are a true human being. if not, leave this gathering. half-heartedness does not reach the depths of majesty.

some thoughts for the journey sell your cleverness and purchase bewilderment; for cleverness is just opinion but bewilderment a vision. - rumi set your life on fire. seek those who fan the flames. - rumi whoever you are, no matter how lonely, the world offers itself to your imagination, calls to you like wild geese, harsh and exciting — over and over announcing your place in the family of things.
