the welcome candle

lisa muttiah

come, come, whoever you are. wanderer, worshiper, lover of leaving. it doesn't matter. ours is not a caravan of despair. come, even if you have broken your vows a thousand times. come, yet again

"singing a song" mayer we know this river always keeps flowing we will be rowing our whole lives long and we may never know where we're going but we can go there singing a song just like a mother to a child she's holding just like a soldier marching along just like the faithful on sunday morning raising our voices, singing a song chorus: eyes will shine but not as bright arms will hold, but not as tight when a word is only spoken so give it feeling, give it rhyme play it in four quarter time sing it with a heart wide open sing of the beauty right there beside you bring it inside you, making you strong so that when trouble comes round to grieve you still it will leave you singing a song chorus and may the music of life overtake us till angels mistake us for a heavenly throng and may that joyful sound be our shelter and find us together, singing a song we'll be together, singing a song passing the peace

kairos moment

(the ancient greeks had two words for time, chronos and kairos. kairos is "a time in between" – sacred time) opening our hearts and minds cathie davis

john 21: 1-7

nathanael of cana in galilee, the sons of zebedee, and two others of his disciples. simon peter said to them, "i am going fishing." they said to him, "we will go with you." they went out and got into the boat, but that night they caught nothing.

just after daybreak, jesus stood on the beach; but the disciples did not know that it was jesus. jesus said to them, "children, you have no fish, have you?" they answered him, "no." he said to them, "cast the net to the right side of the boat, and you will find some." so they cast it, and now they were not able to haul it in because there were so many fish.

that disciple whom jesus loved said to peter, "it is the lord!" when simon peter heard that it was the lord, he put on some clothes, for he was naked, and jumped into the sea.

some thoughts for the journey the risen christ is not a one-time miracle but the revelation of a universal pattern that is hard to see in the short run.

— richard rohr

maybe living is just bringing light to what is needed each day.
