come, come, whoever you are. wanderer, worshiper, lover of leaving. it doesn't matter. ours is not a caravan of despair. come, even if you have broken your vows a thousand times.come, yet again

"anam cara" hanger

in the mists of the morning we open to all of the gifts of the day we open our hearts to take it all in and give it all back in our way chorus: let us sing of the beauty around us let us sing of the beauty within o hear the earth tell that all shall be well anam cara, anam cara, soul friend we're part of it all in our sorrow we're part of it all in our bliss we're part of the sun and part of the rain we're all part of god's holy kiss chorus

passing the peace

kairos moment

(the ancient greeks had two words for time, chronos and kairos. kairos is "a time in between" – sacred time

"all shall be well"
all shall be well
all shall be well
and all manner of things shall be well all shall be

parables from matthew 13

a farmer planted seed. as he scattered the seed, some of it fell on the road, and birds ate it. some fell in the gravel; it sprouted quickly but didn't put down roots, so when the sun came up it withered just as quickly. some fell in the weeds; as it came up, it was strangled by the weeds. some fell on good earth, and produced a harvest beyond his wildest dreams.

he told them another parable. "the kingdom of heaven is like leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of flour, till it was all leavened."

again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net which was thrown into the sea and gathered fish of every kind; when it was full, men drew it ashore and sat down and sorted the good into vessels but threw away the bad.
