mark 16: 1-8 (nrsvue)

when the sabbath was over, mary magdalene and mary the mother of james and salome bought spices, so that they might go and anoint him. and very early on the first day of the week, when the sun had risen, they went to the tomb... when they arrived, they saw the stone, which was very large, had already been rolled back from the entrance. so they entered the tomb and saw a young man dressed in a white robe sitting on the right side, and they were alarmed. but he said to them, “do not be alarmed; you are looking for jesus of nazareth, who was crucified. he has been raised; he is not here. look, there is the place they laid him. go tell his disciples and peter that he is going ahead of you to galilee; there you will see him, just as he told you.” so they went out and fled from the tomb, for terror and amazement had seized them, and they said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid.

love is like water, bringing life to everything without picking and choosing. not competing with anything, it goes places others avoid, flowing like the way - rooted in the earth and the mind like deep pools and clouds of condensation.

thoughts for further reflection

we do not inherit the earth from our ancestors, we borrow it from our children. - wendell berry nothing is more important than chaos, breakdowns, and bad news for catalyzing evolution, creativity, and transformation. - michael dowd

you don't need to do everything. do what calls your heart; effective action comes from love. it is unstoppable, and it is enough. - joanna macy
