wanderer, worshiper, lover of leaving,
it doesn't matter
ours is not a caravan of despair come, even if you have broken your vows a thousand times!
come, yet again!

gift of story

read by charme robarts

isaiah 11: 6-9 (ceb)

the wolf will live with the lamb, and the leopard will lie down with the young goat; the calf and the young lion will feed together, and a little child will lead them. the cow and the bear will graze. their young will lie down together, and a lion will eat straw like an ox. a nursing child will play over the snake's hole; toddlers will reach right over the serpent's den. they won't harm or destroy anywhere on my holy mountain. the earth will surely be filled with the knowledge of the lord, just as the water covers the sea.

thoughts for further reflection

"i do not exist in order that i may posses; rather i exist that i may give of myself. for it is in giving that i am myself."

♡ ilia delio

"the hardest spiritual work in the world is to love the neighbor as the self – to encounter another human being not as someone you can use, change, fix, help, save, enroll, convince or control, but simply as someone who can spring you from the prison of yourself, if you will allow it."

♡ barbara brown taylor

all beings are participants in a common household of matter, desire, and imagination – an economy of metabolic and poetic transformations. all subjectivity is inter-subjectivity. self is really 'self-through-other'.

♡ andreas weber

everyday I see something that more or less kills me with delight. ♡ mary oliver
