luke 19: 28-42 (inclusive version) having said this, jesus went ahead with the ascent to jerusalem. approaching bethphage and bethany, near what is called the mount of olives, jesus sent two of the disciples with these instructions: "go into the village ahead of you. upon entering it, you'll find a tethered colt that no one has yet ridden. untie it and lead it back. if anyone should ask you, 'why are you untying it?' say,

'the rabbi needs it.' " they departed on their errand and found things just as jesus had said. as they untied the colt, its owners said to them, "why are you doing that?"

they explained that the rabbi needed it. then the disciples led the animal to jesus and, laying their cloaks on it, helped him mount. people spread their cloaks on the roadway as jesus rode along. as they reached the descent from the mount of olives, the entire crowd of disciples joined them and began to rejoice and praise god loudly for the display of power they had seen, saying, "blessed is the one who comes in the name of our god! peace in heaven, and glory in the highest!"

thoughts for future reflection

The opposite of faith is not doubt, but certainty. Certainty misses the point entirely. Faith notices the mess, the emptiness and discomfort, and letting it be there until some light returns."

— Anne Lamott

"My worst fear, that somehow everything that mattered could be taken from me, had come true. IT WAS THE MOST LIBERATING MOMENT OF MY LIFE."

— Robin Silverman

"Since my house burned down,

I now have a better view

Of the rising moon."

— Mizuta Masahide (17th c samurai, poet)

"As long as we believe that there is something that will permanently satisfy our hunger for security, suffering is inevitable."

— Pema Chodran

"Part of the delight of unlearning is found in the willingness to practice unknowing and to hold uncertainty with curiosity."

— Kagan Parker
