

Let's Have a Party for Tom!

Sunday, May 4, 2025

6:00 – 9:00 pm

Live Music, Drink, Karaoke, and Food Trucks

Get ready to flip the tables on our Storyteller!

Sip on wine and mocktails from Wine Haus, and savor the mouthwatering offerings from Salsa

Limon, featuring delicious tacos, cheesy quesadillas, crispy chips, zesty salsa, and creamy guacamole! 🥘🍷 We invite you to come ready to indulge your taste buds and quench your thirst with the amazing options lined up just for you (psst...and we just may be trying to hit a minimum purchase goal 😊). 🍹🌟 Don't miss out on this fantastic opportunity to enjoy great food, great drinks, and even better company!

Most of all, your presence makes this gathering unforgettable for Tom—see you there!

During the month of May please bring bottled water

Sacred Text

Bill Lanford

Deuteronomy 6:5-9

You should love Him, your True God, with all your heart and soul, with every ounce of your strength. Make the things I’m commanding you today part of who you are. Repeat them to your children. Talk about them when you’re sitting together in your home and when you’re walking together down the road. Make them the last thing you talk about before you go to bed and the first thing you talk about the next morning. Do whatever it takes to remember them: tie a reminder on your hand and bind a reminder on your forehead where you’ll see it all the time, such as on the doorpost where you cross the threshold or on the city gate.

Thoughts for Future Reflection

“Healing begins where the wound was made” — Alice Walker

“Your body is the piece of the universe you’ve been given, the place where love and joy and grief happen, where happiness unfolds. ”
— Geneen Roth

“I think it is healing behavior, to look at something so broken and see the possibility and wholeness in it.” — Adrienne Maree Brown

“Trauma decontextualized in a person looks like personality. Trauma decontextualized in a family looks like family traits. Trauma decontextualized in people looks like culture.” — Resmaa Menakem
